b. IUSD College & Career Readiness Presentation

Minutes:

Keith Tuominen, Executive Director of Secondary Education, commenced the College, Career, and Life Readiness presentation by introducing the department team members. He also noted that February is Career and Technical Education (CTE) Month and he elaborated that CTE courses help develop students' skills to succeed today and in the future.

Connie Jacobs, Coordinator of College and Career Readiness and Counseling, further outlined that CTE has evolved from vocational education into college, career, life, and social emotional learning to prepare students for their futures.

Ulises Garcia, Coordinator of College and Career Readiness, presented the 15 California Recognized Industry Sectors available to IUSD students, with many different pathways for each. He noted, IUSD offers courses in 12 of the industry sectors; however, all sectors are available to IUSD students through a collaboration with other nearby school districts and Coastline ROP.

Next, Archana Jain, Irvine High School Engineering teacher, provided her firsthand experience of what students gain from CTE courses, including grit, determination, and empathy.

Then, Keyon Jazayeri, University High School senior, shared his experience with his summer Careers in AI course, where they interacted with notable guest speakers, were presented with the principles of AI, and charged with coming up with a hands-on approach to solving an everyday problem.

Connie shared and thanked the many different educational partners who support IUSD CTE courses, noting that Coastline ROP's 10 industry sectors consisting of 59 types of CTE courses are 96% UC/CSU A-G approved. In the 2021-22 school year, 3,845 IUSD high school students participated in CTE courses, which is about one-third of all high school students; that number has doubled from 10 years ago.

In closing, Ulises shared what is on the horizon for College, Career and Life Readiness, which includes expanding the work-based learning internships, adding additional partnerships, pathway expansion, and grade level expansion to include middle school, K-8, and elementary options.

The Board thanked staff for the thorough presentation and inquired regarding challenges and funding for the program.

Members Brooks and Bokota requested a resolution in support of CTE be brought to the next Board meeting.
